

Joint Architecture Standard (JAS)

The Joint Architecture Standard is a joint project between Los Alamos National Laboratory and Sandia National Laboratories to provide a common processing and communication infrastructure upon which to more quickly develop payload sensing and processing capabilities for space.

SpaceWire connected nodes.

Single Node systems.

Backplane connected modules

Simple, low-cost network connected sensors.

