To 2013 Organizers

Zurich, 10th December 2012

CSF AWARD FOR BEST PRESENTATION DURING YOUR CONFERENCE

Dear Organizer of a 2013 CSF conference

The year 2009 has celebrated the 20th anniversary of activity of the Centro Stefano Franscini, ETH Zurich's scientific congress premises at Monte Verità (Ascona, Ticino). Since 1989 the CSF has made itself internationally known as a dynamic, ever growing conference centre, promoting exchanges between young and senior scientists, always aiming at top-quality scientific contributions.

Within this frame, the director and the scientific board of the Centro Stefano Franscini have decided in 2009 to establish a CSF Award for young scientists to be attributed to the best presentation which will take place during CSF conferences.

The Award corresponds to the sum of CHF 500.-

together with a certificate and a small CSF/Monte Verità memento.

In other words, the scientific/organizing committee of your conference should designate the winner of such a prize according to the following criteria:

- best scientific oral presentation (content and form)
- the winner should be a young scientist: a PhD student or someone who has accomplished a doctoral degree within the last 3 years, maximum age 33 years.

The Award will be formally presented to the winner before the end of the conference at Monte Verità, by a representative of both your organizing committee and the CSF.

For further details, please feel free to contact me at the above indicated address or telephone number.

Kind regards.

Dr. Chiara Cometta
